SEPT 12, 2025

JUDGE: JAN DYKEMA

Rollin' on the river! What a lovely treat. Watching the world go by in such a peaceful manner. Thank you to the dedicated members of the Southeast BT club for such a warm welcome. Southern hospitality truly is some of the greatest in the world. Thank you to all of the exhibitors from far and wide who supported this fabulous show. It was a pleasure to judge such quality dogs and also exciting to watch our breed and the minis in the super competitive groups place in some the top spots. This is a "do not miss" show for both judges and exhibitors. "There are no strangers, just friends we haven't met yet," is an old southern saying. Let's make it true in the world of bull terriers.

Brindle and white bitch in immaculate condition. Front view brings an egg shape to her head with tiny ears on top. Well placed eye gives required squint. Ramrod front with nice round bone set on strong pasterns and cat feet. Side view full of sweeps and curves profile is strong and deep, shoulder is well laid leading to excellent fore chest.

Short back and gentle rise over loin. Good tail set. Movement is powerful and smooth in all directions. I do wish she would use her ears a bit more. Nicely handled.

Red and white combining bull and terrier. Typy square dog of a style we could see more often. Not a large dog but one occupying maximum space in his body. Front on he has a filled-up head with a small eye and good ears Lovely broad chest and nice round bone. Tight feet. Side view brings a moderately turned head with an unbroken profile. Lovely muscular front assembly and short back Smooth topline. Rear could be a bit stronger, but stifle is well turned. Moved so very well in all directions. Won his spot today on type

Opposite from the BOS but such a wonderful specimen of a bull terrier. A powerhouse of a dog. Oodles of bone and substance. Well filled and turned head and excellent construction. Pushed hard for BOS today and was a Group winner on another day. Beautifully handled. Was pleased to see he is the sire of some of my other placements. It is “in the genes”

Stout forelegs with a great amount of bone. Feet good and tight. Side view brings a super short back and sweeping topline leading to a tail set on just right. Rear is well turned. Is it possible to be thuggy and large at the same time? Evidently it is. This is a dog with a large frame carrying a ton of bone but still keeping that bully look. Thick through front assembly leading to a fairly short back and good topline. Rear is solid and well turned. Loads of muscle. Head is long, deep and full with a bit of a brow. Moved with power in all directions.

Super young dog with so much to love about him. Wonderful head quality. Long and filled up to the brim. Varmit like eyes. And ears on top. Round strong front legs with upright pasterns and tiny cat feet. Oh so typy. Well laid shoulder and prominent fore chest. Brisket is well sprung and well let down making a graceful curve upwards. Topline is solid on the go around with a rise where it should be over the loin.

Moved like a trooper coming and going. Highly considered for BOS.
Pushed the winner. His day will come.
